Université de Limoges

Limoges France is best known for its medieval enamel art and its porcelain production which boomed in the 19th century. Prior to this date, the area of modern day Limoges was separated into the town of Limoges and the castle of Limoges. The two were not united until 1792. French artist Pierre-Auguste Renoir is a native of Limoges.

Finding Courses
Before going abroad, you will need to investigate the courses available at potential host institutions. Here are instructions for finding courses on the Université de Limoges website:

- Go to www.unilim.fr
- Select Formations from the left, then Tous nos diplomes.
- From here scroll until you find your desired subject. What you will link to is actually a description of the major, not individual classes. The class titles can be found, but course descriptions will need to be requested from the host university.
- Contact the Study Abroad Office for more details.

Popular Courses of Study
OSU students studying at Limoges can take courses in modern, ancient and medieval history, French literature and grammar courses, and depending on the student’s fluency, much more!

Reciprocal Exchange
This study abroad program is a reciprocal exchange. A reciprocal exchange is an exchange of students between two universities. You pay tuition and fees at your home university (OSU) while studying at a host university. You pay all other expenses to your host university. For more information on expenses, see the back of this brochure. For more information on reciprocal exchange, a detailed booklet is available from the Study Abroad/NSE Office.
